Incident: Abbotsford Police offer Crime Mapping to Citizens

Abbotsford – March 31, 2011.

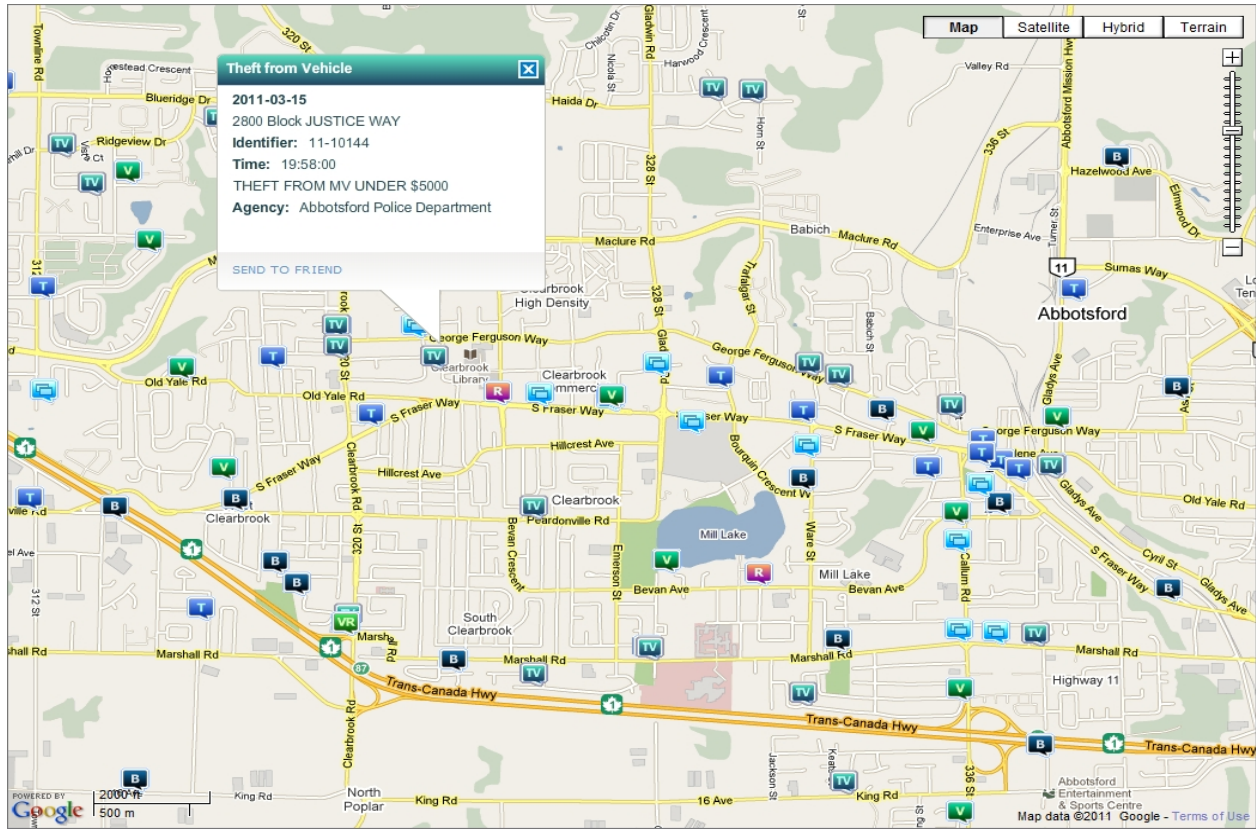

Tomorrow the Abbotsford Police Department will add a new feature to their www.abbypd.ca website. People will have the ability to obtain geographic crime data information by accessing the police department website and utilizing the user configurable tool. This new feature furthers the Abbotsford Police Department's objective of sharing information and actively communicating with our community. The mapping feature will allow users to select geographic areas in Abbotsford, to select and filter crime types and to set time parameters in order to conduct customized information searches. The APD hopes this tool will allow residents of Abbotsford to become more engaged in crime prevention and to achieve greater crime awareness by sharing in the valuable information that is generated through police reports.

Crime Maps can be accessed by clicking this button from our website homepage.
