Incident: Man Throws Soup on Restaurant Employee and is Arrested

Abbotsford – October 14, 2014

On Sunday, October 12 at 1:15 pm, a customer entered a restaurant in the 32700 block of South Fraser Way. The 42 year old man ordered a soup and sandwich and left. A few minutes later the man returned to the restaurant and complained about his sandwich. A female employee attempted to deal with the upset customer, but he remained angry. Suddenly the man threw his hot soup on the face and chest of the employee and left the restaurant. A witness obtained the license plate of the vehicle the man departed in and the Abbotsford Police were called.

The employee suffered minor burns to her chest, neck and face and she was understandably shaken by the incident.

Abbotsford Police attended the residence of customer and arrested him at 1:45 pm. The APD are recommending a charge of Assault with a Weapon against the man. His criminal history includes convictions for Assault with a Weapon, Break and Enter, Theft Under and Theft Over $5000.
